3. Connect with your teacher/students and explore Wolfie together. In the app's homepage, tap the profile icon on the top left, and have the student enter the invite code that appears on the teacher's app.

5 top tips from Wolfie experts

When starting a new piece, stay in "Annotate" mode until you feel you can play at least a few measures fluently.

Curious to know what the piece should sound like? Most pieces have YouTube clips that are synchronized to the scores. Go to "Listen" mode, choose a clip, and tap the score to skip to anywhere you want in the video.

In "Play Along" mode you can control the speed of the playback, and in many pieces - also which hand is being played. Have Wolfie play one hand while you are practicing the other!

The piece is getting better? Go to "Practice" mode. Turn on the Magic Cursor and try to make it move as smoothly as possible.

"Evaluate" mode gives you a chance to shine - and get the acknowledgment you deserve for your hard work. Go there when you feel you are ready to show your best. Remember - you can use this mode for as much as a whole piece, or for as little as a few measures.
